Prof. B. D. Ringo returned Saturday from Haverhill, where he had been to conduct the Teachers Institute of Hancock county. He reports a very successful Institute, and thinks the schools of Hancock county are in charge of active, energetic teachers.

I have secured the service of a first-class horse shoe and am now prepared to do all kinds of fine shoeing for the fair. All work done in workman like style. Satisfaction guaranteed at R. T. Tweddell, next door to S. A. Williams store. 36-4f

If you want any thing brought up from Owensboro leave your orders with Bennett & Williams, all orders will have prompt attention, will leave Hartford on Monday's, Wednesday's and Friday's. And will leave Owensboro on Tuesday's, Thursday's and Saturday's.

We have a sample of sugar made by G. B. Petty, of near Louisville, this county, of a fine sugar cane grown on his farm. It makes a good clear sugar. Anyone wanting the seed can get them free of charge by applying to Mr. Petty. Call at our office and see a sample of the sugar.

R. C. McDowell, a colored minister of this place, had the misfortune to lose a good horse on last Sunday. The horse was rubbing against the side of the stable and came in contact with a ten penny nail which so lacerated the horse that his entrails came out and the horse had to be killed. This man deserves the sympathy of all. His church and the people in general under the circumstances, should assist in buying him another.

The Court of Claims, composed of the following worthy Magistrates: A. S. Aul, Allison Haynes, W. I. Rowe, W. M. Avery, C. L. Fields, J. H. Patton, A. H. Ross, Joe McKinley, R. T. Renter, B. F. Muffet, W. N. Martin, J. P. Morton, and presided over by County Judge Massie and Counseled by Attorney Pendleton, is in session. Business is being transacted with characteristic rapidity, and the Court will probably complete its work to-day.

Ben Kelly, who lives near Magan, Ky., started to Hartford last Sunday with a young horse to be exhibited in the Fair, and got as far as the Sulphur Springs, when the horse became frightened at a boy standing on the side of the road and ran away, turned the sulky over, threw Kelly out, breaking his shoulder and bruising him very severely. Kelly, the sulky and horse were taken home the same evening.

The game of base ball, at Rochester, last Saturday was won easily by the Science Hill club. For the first 3 or 4 innings, the result of the contest was doubtful, but afterwards the doughty Ohio county champions spurred ahead and finally distanced their opponents. The battery work of Science Hill was noticeable, as was the first-base playing of Shultz. Bowler, of Rochester, proved an efficient back stop. Five hundred people were in attendance, the weather was propitious, good humor prevailed, and the game was pleasant to the spectators. Score 40 to 11 in favor of Science Hill. Time of game 3 hours.

According to announcement, the Democrats in the Northern part of Hartford precinct met on last Saturday evening at the junction of the Owensboro and Livermore road, and raised a Democratic flag. The pole is 80 feet in length, the flag 8x15 feet. After the flag raising Messrs. J. E. Rowe, Willie Foster, and others entertained those present with speeches to the entire satisfaction of all. The Herald desires to compliment the zeal and enthusiasm of the Democrats of the Northern part of Hartford precinct. It is to be hoped that all other portions of Ohio county, that have not done so, will fall in line at once and manifest the same interest. If the Democrats of the county will do this as we confidently believe they will, we will carry the county by at least 150 majority. The county in the past few years in the State and National elections has been giving a Republican majority, solely because of the sympathy upon the part of the Democrats in the precinct. Every Democrat be at his post the 6th of November, and thereby swell the already handsome majority in the State.

Joe Baize, of near Rosine, was struck over the head with a gun by Walter Childs on last Monday. Baize's skull was very badly fractured. Drs. Pendleton, Hartford, Rains, Caneyville and Dr. Weidling, of Rosine, were called in and took out a section of the skull about the size of a silver dollar. Baize is in a precarious condition. The difficulty occurred about three quarters of a mile South of Rosine. The men it seems had started to Rosine together, and had some misunderstanding as to some business arrangement while on their way. Childs went to town and gave himself up, and was brought to Hartford yesterday by Wm. Thomas, Marshal of Rosine. Childs has a long cut in his waist coat on the left side and a bruised nose and eye. Childs claims that Baize while in conversation gave him the "slam lie" and in turn he gave Baize a "slam lie" and struck him with his fist, and took out his knife and struck at him, and Childs then struck Baize over the head with a gun he had with him. Baize was left in the road by Childs, but he got up and walked home, a distance of about four hundred yards. We will give full particulars after the trial, which is set for Monday. Childs gave bond. His plea will be justification.

All persons attending the Court of Claim and Fair next week, will find it pleasant to stop at this hotel and get Stahl fed, and return home fat and amply. Terms reasonable, and good patronage respectfully solicited. 39 3f

THE DISTRICT ELECTORS.

Fogle and Proctor at the Court House.

Hon. John D. Fogle and Mr. T. J. Proctor, Democratic and Republican electors for this district, spoke at the Court House Monday afternoon. No announcement had been made of their coming, hence not a very large crowd was on hand. Mr. Fogle spoke for forty-five minutes on the general subjects now ordinarily discussed by the two political parties. He showed how and when the leaders of the Republican party, Sherman, Blaine, Harrison and others had advocated a reduction of the tariff taxes. He reviewed the history of the Republican party during its entire existence and showed that its great sympathy for the laborer at present was simply a spasmodic sentiment, as the party has at all times been the friend of money powers and against the interest of the masses. He read from the new historic evidence of manufacturers issued by the Republicans and in a straightforward way advocated the claims of Democracy.

Mr. Proctor followed in a speech of an hour and a quarter's length. We will draw no comparison between the men, but it was plain to be seen that Fogle had not much to fear from the Republican elector. Proctor wandered along through his speech much to the "delight" of the audience striking "diminutive" whenever he found one in his way. Finally he struck the war, and then he warmed up to his work in good style. During the course of his wandering remarks, he proved conclusively to himself, that the Democratic party was a free trade party, because Henry Watterson, John G. Carlisle and James B. Beck were members of the Golden Club. In his closing speech of thirty minutes, Mr. Fogle noticed a few of the assertions made by Proctor and continued to advocate the cause of the Democratic party. He closed his speech by a quotation from James A. Garfield to the effect that ultimately the United States would have no tariff for protection, but he on a revenue basis entirely. If Mr. Proctor continues to give it to the "diminutive" as strong as he did Monday, Montgomery will go to Congress by a largely increased majority.
